REAL ESTATE

Our lawyers take on all types of real estate matters in New York:

Residential Purchases and Sales

Whether you are looking to buy or sell a home, we are available to provide legal assistance throughout the process, from the drafting and/or review of the Contract of Sale through the Closing.

Commercial Transactions

We represent companies and individuals in all manner of complex commercial transactions, including purchases and sales, as well as the drafting, negotiation, and review of lease and licensing agreements. We are familiar with the risks and potential problems facing clients in these situations, and take pride in our ability to ensure our clients understand all of the implications of the relevant contractual provisions.

Commercial and Residential Lease Agreements

Whether you are a prospective or current landlord, tenant, licensor, or licensee, our firm is available to assist in the drafting, negotiation, and review of your rental agreement, lease, or licensing agreement. Due to our significant experience and familiar with such matters, we are acutely aware of the risks and concerns affecting our clients in these situations, and take pride in our ability to ensure our clients understand all of the implications of the relevant contractual provisions.

Short Sales

In some cases, where a borrower owes more than a property is worth, it may be in his or her best interest to pursue a Short Sale. In a short sale, the borrower seeks the lender's approval to release the borrower from his/her obligation to repay his/her debt in exchange for the proceeds of the sale of the property, even though these proceeds do not cover the full balance owed. This option avoids the unpleasant outcome of foreclosure. Our office has significant experience in obtaining short sale approval from a variety of lenders.

For homeowners who have fallen behind on their mortgage, or even been served with foreclosure papers, our office provides Foreclosure Defense and Loan Modification services.
